

WALKER HINES SUCCEEDS M'ADOO
AS RAILWAY DIRECTOR GENERAL

LOS ANGELES, CAL., Jan. 11.—Wm. G. McAdoo today announced that President Wilson had cabled that Walker Hines was appointed as Director General of Railways. Hines' appointment is effective immediately. The President's cable to McAdoo said that Hines' term as Assistant Director General of Railways fitted him for the appointment.

Among railroad administration officials Hines is regarded as liberal minded. He is even declared radical. It is pointed out that Hines was a strong advocate for the increase in the pay of the employees and is reported in staff meetings of the officials in nearly every case to have been against rather than for the railroad corporations' program.

No Change in Policy

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—The policy of the railroads will in no wise be changed Walker D. Hines, new Director General announced today in his first newspaper conference. Hines said he strongly favored Wm. G. McAdoo's plans for a five year control of the railroads. He expects to lay his plans before Congress at an early date. How vigorously he will express his views was not intimated.

FOCH MOVES HIS GERMAN HEADQUARTERS.
BERLIN DISORDER CUTS OFF HIS COAL

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—Marshal Foch's headquarters in Germany will be transferred to Nancy. The disorder in Berlin is seriously interfering with the railroad traffic and it threatens to cut off the coal supply to the Allied army of occupation. A commission of American, British, and French military officials are said to have gone to Cologne to investigate conditions. The American army abroad uses 25,000 tons a month.

The Third Army has issued an ultimatum to the German government that it will refuse to accept 200 of the big guns surrendered under terms of the armistice owing to the fact that they are old models and a portion of each is missing. As a result a commission is hurrying to Berlin, being unable to obtain any action by telegraph.

EBERT GOVERNMENT GROWS STRONGER
RIOTING DECREASING IN HUN CAPITAL

BERLIN, Jan. 10.—The position of the Ebert-Schiedeman government is growing stronger every hour while the number of insurgent demonstrators is rapidly diminishing, it was officially announced today. Fighting between the government and Spartacan forces continued for possession of the newspaper Vorwaerts.

OTHER HUN CITIES ALIVE WITH REVOLT

COPENHAGEN, Jan. 11.—Serious rioting occurred yesterday in Dresden, Stuttgart, Hamburg, Dusseldorf, and Augsburg, according to dispatches received from German sources today. Spartacans were said to have recovered the city hall and newspaper office in those places. Fighting is still going on in Hamburg.

LIEBKNECHT REPORTED KILLED

COPENHAGEN, Jan. 11.—Reports were received here today that Karl Liebknecht, leader of the Spartacan revolution, was killed during street fighting in Berlin Thursday evening.

CLEVELAND NIPS
BOLSHEVIKI PLAN

CLEVELAND, Jan. 11.—Federal officials acted promptly today in what they took to be the first outbreak of Bolshevism in Cleveland. They arrested two men found pasting huge red posters on Cleveland buildings appealing for preparations for a revolution so that they might follow up the work of their fellow workers in Russia and Germany. The posters also announced a mass meeting for tonight. The speaker at the meeting was to be Dennis Dapp, a Socialist editor.

NOW IS THE TIME
TO GUARD AGAINST
BAD CITIZENSHIP

Now is the time and opportunity for the United States to put its house in order by doing a thorough house-cleaning job. All foreign-born residents who are not citizens and all immigrants on landing here from now on should be card-indexed and made to declare their intentions and this would be followed by citizenship within the earliest legal dates. Those not intending citizenship should be allowed to remain in the country for a stated period only and under strict supervision, and should be compelled to report to the proper authorities at stated intervals.

All German-born residents who have not become citizens, although residents long enough for that purpose, should undergo thorough examination as to why they have not acquired citizenship and what their present intentions are, and based on this inquiry they should be compelled to become citizens at the earliest date possible or be deported.

All German enemy aliens, whether or not at present interned, should be deported, and all citizens of German birth or blood who by speech or act have shown disloyalty to this country should be rigidly investigated and disposed of according to the merits of each case. All good, loyal citizens should co-operate in this work by reporting such disloyal citizens.

The draft boards already organized and operative could be continued as the first investigating bodies in this work.

Why should disloyal citizens of German birth or blood be allowed the privileges of this country, and above all why should enemy aliens, thousands of whom have been here many years without becoming citizens and thousands of them German reservists be permitted to prosper here under the advantages of this great and free country in competition with loyal citizens of native and foreign birth.

No foreign national flag should be exposed except alongside the American flag; no other flag of any kind should be exposed except the Stars and Stripes fly above it, and the red flag, or any similar flag standing for un-American institutions and disorder should be barred altogether.

ARGENTINE STRIKE
NEAR REVOLUTION

By J. R. Miller
Buenos Ayres, Jan. 11.—The general strike here is part of an anarchistic movement which will spread to the United States and the rest of the world unless it is stopped at once. General Lewis Dellepiane, self-imposed military dictator told the United Press today.

Buenos Ayres, Jan. 11.—The general strike in Buenos Ayres is rapidly developing into a revolution today. Establishment of a military district last night by General Dellepiane, commander of the first military region embracing Buenos Ayres is expected to bring matters to a head. The present national administration was elected by the workmen. So far it has taken no definite steps to suppress the disorder which resulted in a clash between thousands of strikers and soldiers last night. Machine guns were used and the casualties were heavy. The passive attitude of the government led Dellepiane to assume control, he announced. The strike apparently is developing Bolsheviki tendencies. If the government backs Dellepiane a revolution may be precipitated. If the government opposes Dellepiane the latter may attempt to replace a portion of the ministry although President Irigoyne has said that he will not declare martial law. Dellepiane's action is not yet regarded as adverse to the government, but if Irigoyne disapproves he is likely to take some counter action. In any event the loyalty of the army will determine the future.

Dellepiane admitted that he acted on his own initiative but said he is convinced that President Irigoyne approved of his course. "The trouble is due to the Russian anarchists who used the strike as a pretext, declared Dellepiane. The Socialists have promised to stop the movement which is now confined to Argentine but I

ALEXANDER PASSED
AWAY YESTERDAY

Hon. Joseph Alexander one of Clearfield county's best known citizens, died at his home in Madera yesterday morning. Mr. Alexander had been in failing health for a number of years and his death was not unexpected.

The deceased was a member of one of Clearfield county's pioneer families and lived a long, active and useful life. He engaged in farming, lumbering and mining and died possessed of a large estate.

He was a veteran of the Civil war and represented Clearfield county in the Pennsylvania Legislature for several terms. For his careful attention to duty and his unswerving fidelity to his obligations and the interests of his constituents he was styled "Honest Joe" Alexander and deserved that sobriquet through both his public and private life.

In 1910 he was chosen State Senator for the 34th Senatorial district and filled the office with credit to himself and the party which he represented.

He is survived by one son, Clinton, of Washington, and one daughter, Miss Minerva, at home.

His funeral will be held from his late home Monday afternoon at 1:30.

SO LONG AND GOOD LUCK

In this manner we say goodbye to about twenty-five good people who have neglected and delayed sending in that red envelope. This will be the last issue they will receive. It has been hard work to convince our friends that we really meant that the federal order would be obeyed and that The Progress would stop when the subscription expired. We insert this notice so that these people will know why they do not get a paper on Monday. We will be glad to put your name back on the list when we receive that red envelope. We get many inquiries from people wanting to know when their subscription expires. May we here explain that red envelopes are sent to all subscribers in ample time to allow a remittance before expiration date.

KERRMOOR VIEWS WAR
SOUVENIR

The first souvenir to arrive at Kerrmoor from the battlefield of France was a German helmet sent by Corporal Robert Winters to Roscoe B. Shaffer. It created quite an excitement, it being the first war relic in that part of the country. All the town people and surrounding community came to view it while at the post office. It had the life blood of its owner spilled on it. Robert Winters was one of the soldiers who was with the American forces on their punitive expedition in Mexico. He was one of the guards on the border before sailing for France, has been in the service of Uncle Sam for six years, and is now with the army of occupation, Company B, 5th Regiment.

PENN PUBLIC SERVICE COMPANY SAYS INCREASED STEAM BILLS
DUE ENTIRELY TO WASTE; THEY SAY FOUR-FIFTHS OF THEIR
PATRONS HAVE NO KICK: HAVE YOU A KICK—LET US HELP YOU

There is a great deal of dissatisfaction among the local consumers over the charges of the Penn Public Service company for steam heat furnished. Heretofore and ever since the original steam heating plant was erected heat had been furnished patrons on a flat rate basis. That is, each person was asked to pay according to the radiation used or surface area heated. This season meters were installed and many long loud wails have been the result.

Many of those who felt themselves the victims of excessive overcharging have solicited the aid of this newspaper for the purpose of arousing public sentiment and organizing an effective protest against the alleged unfair rates charged. We have had some little general criticism to offer along this line as a result of information secured regarding specific instances of what appeared to be extraordinarily large bills for steam.

As a result of that criticism representatives of the Penn Public Service company have called on us and stated that such criticism was unfair in that out of their total list of some one hundred and forty customers, only about one fifth of that number were kicking or had any right to kick on account of the size of their bills for steam, especially for the bills rendered for December heat.

They say that in the case of each and every one of the kickers it is no doubt possible to remedy the condition and get the bill down to where it would be considered equitable and just. That they had investigated a number of such complaints following the issuing of the bills for November and found in many instances the heavy charge was due to defective installation, excessive radiation or other leaks, with the result that the customer was consuming or wasting much more heat than was necessary and as under the new system all steam going through the pipes was registered up and had to be paid for, the bills were largely in excess of former charges. In a number of cases it was found the leak was due to faulty mains and service and in all of such cases the faulty condition was made with the complaining consumer. The inside leak or faulty condition was up to the consumer to remedy and where remedied satisfactory bills during December have been the result.

They further stated that they were willing to meet and go over the ground with any patron complaining and felt satisfied that the reason for excessive charges, if any, could be located and the remedy pointed out and blame for same and liability for remedying fixed.

The above of course is a fair statement and a fair proposition and is deserving of consideration. We have several instances in mind where charges appear to be highly excessive and if the facts will bear out the steam company's contention after proper and careful investigation, it is only fair that such investigation be made and the remedy supplied.

With a view to a proper determination of this vexing question and obviating a call upon the State Public Service Commission, if such can be done, we ask all steam heat consumers who feel that their steam charge this year is excessive and far in excess of past years to fill out and return to The Progress office the subjoined blank form. Give us the amount of your steam bill for the first four months of the season of 1917-18 and the corresponding months of the present or 1918-19 season. We desire this information not for publication, but for the purpose of verification and acceptance on your behalf of the proposition of the Penn Public's representatives, with a view to having a proper settlement of this vexing problem and one that will be satisfactory, if at all possible, to both sides to the controversy.

We don't want to butt in but we are acting from the standpoint of a consumer and in our newspaper capacity, which we feel entitles us to step in at this time and attempt at least to adjust this difference between Penn Public Service Company and their patrons. Such controversies do not help anybody and should be promptly adjusted or at least the blame fixed, and then if recourse must be had to regularly constituted authority the way will be cleared and we will all get action just that much quicker.

Fill out the blank and mail or hand it in to this office as soon as possible in order that some attempt at adjustment may be made before another month's bills are received and more fuel added to the flames of discontent thereby.

Centre county politicians seem to be a little more anxious about office than these staid old Clearfield countians. Already the weekly papers of Centre County are carrying several political announcements.

Bank accounts have peculiar influences on some people. We find some who need to have no objection to being called by their first name who may insist on our using more ink and type and adding Mr. to their initials. This, however, is not the fault of the bank account.

THE SCHOOLS AND THE FLU

By this time there should be somebody who can tell the people of Clearfield county what to do about sending the children to school. This term of our schools has been very badly broken up by the epidemic and the heads of schools all over the county are complaining that they are unable to get the pupils back to school owing to the fear of the parents that they will contract the flu by attending. By opening the schools the school boards of the county have indicated their belief that there is no great danger from sending pupils to school. However, we find many parents who say their physician has advised them to keep the children at home. What is right for one is right for all. Let us either close the schools or get back to normal. It is unfair to the teachers and to the pupils. The Progress feels that children are in no greater danger at school than at any other place, not even the home where people are continually visiting. It is no uncommon thing to find pupils staying away from school but attending all kinds of public entertainments and amusements.

ROOSEVELT

Is it possible that this dynamic personality has ceased to exist?

How can we convince ourselves that Theodore the Terrible, T. R., the all pervasive, Teddy, our dearly beloved, has gone from us forever? What a tremendous void the thought creates.

He who was the very personification of energy, the embodiment of the restless, vital, progressive spirit of the new America. A splendid prototype of the American of the next half century.

He looked the whole world in the face and found it good; difficulties to him were as wine and no bodily ills could quench the ardor of his optimism; always he was feeling "bully".

Love of country was his ruling passion; probably his greatest sorrow was that in his country's supreme crisis he was denied the privilege of offering his life on the field of battle.

Nevertheless he served his country faithfully and well. He never wavered, sometimes to tilt at windmills, what genius has not; equally at home in marble halls as in the silent places, he never faltered in the face of duty, nor retreated in the face of the enemy.

The lack of his taking off is too near to write calmly; the overwhelming influence of his personality is too immediate to approach him in their right perspective; the true measure of his greatness, the future will determine.

We know we have lost a great leader at a time when such are most urgently needed. The nation has lost a distinguished patriot; we have lost a friend.

Well Theodore, you have bequeathed to us a priceless heritage of faith; we may not look upon your face again but all down the coming ages, millions of weaker brothers will draw inspiration from your example and from your cheering words gain strength to more nobly "carry on".—B. B. McCreight.

AN IDEAL PLACE FOR GIRLS TO WORK

Every visitor to the Plush Mill commonly called the Silk mill here comes away amazed at the excellent working conditions for girls there. The floors and walls are found to be spotlessly clean. The lighting arrangement is of the best to be had. Ventilation is taken care of by special and expensive mechanical equipment. Wages are good and the work light. Now that the war is over and there is a greater demand for the product of the mill the force is to be increased and a great many girls can find pleasant employment. Families living throughout the county are invited to correspond with the Clearfield Textile company or J. P. O'Laughlin in regard to employment. Many families having three or four girls desiring employment have already moved here. The company has desirable houses for such families.

CLEARFIELD BOY MAKING GOOD

Thales Boyd, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Boyd, and a graduate of Clearfield High School, who entered Annapolis Naval Academy following his graduation several years ago, is making his mark in Uncle Sam's navy. During the war Ensign Boyd was in command of an American submarine and was only recently promoted to Lieutenant Commander as a reward for faithful service.

Lt. Commander Boyd's next of kin, Clearfield friends will be pleased to learn of his advancement.

BACK LIKE A BOARD? IT'S YOUR KIDNEYS

There's no use suffering from the aching agony of lame back. Don't wait till it "passes off." It only comes back. Find the cause and stop it. Increased conditions of kidney are usually indicated by stiff lame back and other wearing pains, which are nature's signals for help. Here's the remedy. When you feel the first twinges of pain or experience any of these symptoms, get busy at once. Go to your druggist and get a box of the pure, original, GLENN MEDICAL Backache Oil. It's the most important remedy ever known from the laboratories in Hudson, Holland. Pleasant and easy to take, they instantly attack the poisonous germs clogging your system and bring quick relief. For over two hundred years they have been helping the sick. Why not try them? Sold everywhere by reputable druggists in sealed packages.

IT PAYS TO READ ADVERTISEMENTS

You've often heard the saying, "It pays to advertise." That is true. And it also pays to read advertisements--pays you. If you read advertisements consistently for any length of time you will agree that this statement is also true.

It pays you in money saved. There are many real bargains offered from time to time in the advertisements appearing in this paper. Watch for them.

It pays you in satisfaction. When a merchant asks you to come to his store he obligates himself to sell you quality goods "as advertised." You have a right to expect satisfaction from what you buy and you get it.

It pays you in time saved. When you know exactly what you want to buy and where you want to buy it, you don't have to "look around" and waste time finding it.

Don't you want to save money and time? Wouldn't you like to be sure of getting satisfactory service and quality goods every time you go to a store? Then read the advertisements and patronize the stores which can serve you best.

WHY JOHN HENRY GOT THE WAR CROSS

Here are paragraphs from a Kansas letter, quoting Henry Johnson, colored, of Albany, N. Y., on an outpost.

"Twas a cloudy and rainy night and me and ma pardner was at this beach outpost. 'Bout two in de mornin' we sees a bunch of Germans comin' as us. Ah figured myself as good a man as any of dem en. Ah says to 'ma pardner, 'We's goin' to stick right here.' He says 'I'm with you to de end.' So 'stead of 'treating to our lines we cut loose grenades and fired away all our ammunition. Robinson was wounded in de laig at de start and fell at de ground still throwing de grenades at de Huns. Two of 'em tried to carry 'way ma pardner on a stretcher. Ah took ma rifle, a French gun, just like dis, and hit a dude right on de head and broke the rifle right heah.

"Ah went after de dudes carryin' way ma pardner. Ah reached for 'ma bowie (trench knife) and hit one feller right in de head. I pulled it out and 'bout faced all round and give it to nudder in de guts. "I took ma pardner away from 'em and brought 'em back to de post. Den one of de dudes comes to me hollerin' 'Kumrad.' 'Kumrad,' you say 'Th Kumrad all right. Ah'll show ye Kumrad.' Yessah and den de Germans, what was left of 'em, beat it. I bandaged ma pardner with me first-aid kit.

"Den de lootenant comes runnin' in an says, 'Johnson what's happened?' Ah says, 'It's all over, lootenant.' 'Ah had sixteen automatics and me stuff piled in front of me.

"Ah say, 'Go out dere an count dose dudes.

"The lootenant takes his pocket light an' looks over the ground and comes back.

"'Fer heaven's sake, Johnson, dere's twenty-four of 'em.' 'Yessah, and if dey hadn't a got ma pardner here, dey would a been a lot more.

FIRST MURDER IN CLEARFIELD COUNTY

"There is no accounting for taste," as the old woman said when she kissed the cow, but we are here to please every last one of the readers of The Progress, if such be possible, in response to the appeal of two different persons during the past six months, we propose inflicting upon our readers in general that "fearful and wonderful" (?) tale—we hate to call it a poem—the confession of James Monks.

We were favored with the copy of the "poem" by Ed. McCracken, of Jersey Shore, formerly of Kermoor, who was present on one occasion when the request for publication was made and kindly agreed to furnish the copy for same. Here it is. Ouch!

Come all ye good people
Who now have come to view
This sad and shameful death
I have brought myself unto:
I pray you all take warning
By my unhappy fate,
And shun my vice and folly,
Before it is too late.

In the country of Centre
I drew my baby breath;
And in that same county
I met my shameful death.
Had I obeyed the councils
My parents gave to me
I would not have to suffer
Upon this shameful tree.

I hope you will remember
James Monk—such is my name;
This day I do confess
To my sorrow and my shame,
That I shot Reuben Giles
Whom I never saw before
And I left his body weltering
In its purple gore.

I hunted in Clearfield
In Eighteen Seventeen,
From the head of Stump Creek
Where I had often been;
And while on my way homeward
On Anderson creek hill,
I stopped to drink and gamble
As many men do still.

I left the stone tavern
In anger at its men,
For cheating me in gambling,
At least I thought so then;
And walked off in the evening
With wild thoughts astray
And soon I met a stranger
Who said, "Good evening Sir."

Just after I had passed him
The thought occurred to me,
To kill him for his money,
There was no one to see;
And without further thinking,
As if from hell inspired
I turned—drew up my rifle
And in a moment fired.

I now caught his horse
And tied it to a tree
Then hastened to my victim,
Who faintly said to me
"My friend why have you killed me?"
But all I could reply
Was quickly to go to him
Resolved that he must die.

The devil so possessed me
Before he was quite dead
With tomahawk I gave him
Two blows upon the head;
Then dragged him off a distance
And stripped him of his clothes,
And like a savage left him
To beasts and brutes exposed.

In trying on his shoes
I found they were so small,
I cut them in the instep
And left my pen-knife fall;
This knife and an old song book
Left there as by design,
When with a piece of clothing
Betrayed this deed of mine.

His horse and his saddle-bags
Now became my prey;
His watch and his pocket-book
I also took away;
Then covered up his body
With leaves and rotten wood,
Some distance from the roadside

NEWS OF PENNSYLVANIA BOYS MADE FINE RECORD

OUR TEENAGERS GRAMPIAN

Heret Spencer who has been with the United States army in France, has been invalided back to this country and is now at his home in Hopbarnia. Mr. Spencer suffered a wound in the leg which necessitated his amputation. He was sent back to America and has been in the hospital at Hopbarnia, New Jersey for the past few months.

Clair Barigh has moved in the W. M. Pentz house.

The entire family of William Sunderland are down with the flu.

Mrs. Paul Curry visited at Mrs. H. A. Spencer's Tuesday.

Preaching services will be held at Hopbarnia Saturday evening. Public cordially invited to attend.

Where once a tree had stood.

I threw his hat away
Before I'd rode a mile.
Then went toward Karthaus,
Pursuers to beguile;
And early the next morning
I viewed all my store
And thought I could conceal
This my guilt forever more.

I hid his bloody shirt
In the hollow of a tree.
But this, too, was found
And produced against me;
To show that private murder
Would never be concealed,
A dog told the secret
And the whole was then revealed.

I tried to plead "not guilty"
My lawyers did their best,
But proof on proof appeared
Guilt rankled in my breast;
His bones, too, were produced
Presented at my trial,
And this shocking proof of guilt
Admitted no denial.

One more thing I will mention
Before I am done with time,
Some blamed Andrew Allison
For this my only crime;
But since I am to suffer,
I say a lie has come—
He is innocent as the infant
Or child yet unborn.

A foot note on the original reads thus: "Monks killed Giles in 1817 was tried in 1818 and hung in 1819. The first murder of Clearfield county is the subject."

BIRD LAW IS HELD INVALID

Washington, Jan. 10.—The Federal Migratory Bird law of 1913, under which the government for the first time exerted authority over private lands, which habitually migrate from state to state with the varying seasons was in effect declared invalid today by the Supreme court, which dismissed on the government's motion an appeal from a decision of the Arkansas Federal district court holding the statute unconstitutional.

Now that the war is over it will cost four billion dollars a year to run Uncle Sam's Government for the next years to come. It costs only one billion for the peace-time expenses of government. The additional three billion will represent one billion for war risk insurance, one billion to keep on the army and navy and another billion for interest on war bonds and debts. It is believed America will adopt a system of universal military training.

Venango, Jan. 8.—Next to the First, Second and Third divisions, regular army, the Twenty-eighth Pennsylvania division had a larger number of replacements than any other in the service.

Corporal James A. Martin, writing to a local paper, gives figures to show that 22,381 men had to be used in a division that numbered 30,000 men when it went overseas. His article follows:

"With the 112th Infantry in France, Bureaux, Dec. 7. The twenty-eighth division was known to feel proud that during the six months that it saw continuous active service at the front it established a fine record.

"Of the units which had been overseas long enough to have been entitled to the first service strips, it leads the list in number of replacements. And figures in this case, do not lie. They show to what an extent a division was this in fighting. And be it known that the 22,381 men assigned to the Twenty-eighth division in the six months period speak louder than mere words of praise. When the Twenty-eighth came overseas it had 30,000 men on the rolls of its infantry, artillery, engineers and other organizations composing the Keystone Division.

"The Second, First and Third divisions of the regular army, which were overseas for a full six months before the twenty-eighth arrived, saw much action but it is to be noted that the Twenty-eighth, in number of replacements, leads even the famous Rainbow Division, which was overseas for the same period of time.

"The official losses of the 112th regiment during its activity in the Chateau Thierry fighting, along the Vesle and in the Argonne and in the Trenchard sector of the Meuse total 2,219 according to the figures just made public. This regiment came from the northwestern part of the state.

"Total killed were: Killed, 1,011; wounded, 1,008; missing, 203.

"Total losses: Killed, 1,011; wounded, 1,008; missing, 203.

"Total losses: Killed, 1,011; wounded, 1,008; missing, 203.

WORK HOUSE SITE IS NOT YET RATIFICATION PRAYER MEETING A SUCCESS

Pursuant to a call for prayer for the ratification of the amendment to the constitution a meeting was held by the W. C. T. U. yesterday in the Y. M. C. A. The meeting was led by Mrs. S. C. Wilson, our successful organizer, who talked most interestingly upon ratification and kindred subjects, also reading a number of articles.

During the same period the average American monthly production of rifles was 233,582 compared with 18,821 in Great Britain and 40,000 in France.

Rifle and machine gun ammunition was produced during the three-month period at the average monthly rate of 259,768,000 rounds in America, 139,845,000 in France and 277,000 in the United States.

A WAIL FROM PANAMA

I'm sitting here and thinking of the things I left behind,
And I hate to put on paper what is
running through my mind.
We've dug a million trenches, and
cleaned ten miles of ground,
And a manner place this side of hell,
I know it can't be found,
When we die we're bound to go to heaven for we've done our hitch
in hell.

We've built a hundred kitchens for
the cooks to stew our beans,
We've stood a hundred guard mounts,
and cleaned the camp latrines,
We've washed a million mess-kits and
peeled a million spuds,
We've strapped a million blanket-
rolls and washed a million duds.
The number of parades we've stood is
very hard to tell,
But we'll not parade in heaven for
we've done our hitch in hell.

We've killed a million poison snakes
that tried to take our coats,
We've shook a million spiders from
off our army socks,
We've marched a hundred thousand
miles and made a million camps,
And pulled a thousand sensitive
plants from off our army punts.
But when our work on earth is done
our friends behind will tell,
When they died, they went to heaven
for they've done their hitch in hell.

When the final taps are sounded, and
we lay aside our cares,
And we do the very last parade right
up the golden stairs,
And the angels bid us welcome and
the harps begin to play,
While we draw a million canteen
checks and spend them in a day,
'Tis then we'll hear St. Peter tell us
loudly with a yell,
Just take a front seat Mister, for
you've done your hitch in hell.

There Was Nothing So Good
for Congestion and Colds
as Mustard

But the old-fashioned mustard-plaster
burned and blistered while it acted. Get the relief and help that mustard
provides without the plaster and blister.

Musterole does it. It is a clean, white ointment, made with oil of mustard. It is scientifically prepared, so that it works
wonderfully, and yet does not blister the tenderest skin.

Just massage Musterole in with the finger tips gently. See how quickly it brings relief. How speedily the pain disappears.
Use Musterole for sore throat, bronchitis, tonsillitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuritis, headache, congestion, pleurisy,
rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, burns, chilblains, frostbitten feet, colds of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia),

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

(By REV. P. B. FITZWATER, D. D.,
Teacher of English Bible in the Moody
Bible Institute of Chicago.)
(Copyright, 1918, Western Newspaper
Union.)

LESSON FOR JANUARY 12

MOSES THE DELIVERER OF ISRAEL.

LESSON TEXT—Exodus 3:1-12.
GOLDEN TEXT—And Moses verily was faithful in all his house. Hebrews 3:2.
ADDITIONAL MATERIAL—Exodus 3:
12-4:17; Acts 7:35-36.

While the oppression of God's people
was heading up, in the providence of God a deliverer was being prepared
to take up the task at the opportune
hour. Moses was first trained at his mother's knee, then in Pharaoh's
court and finally under God's immediate hand in the desert. The latter was an indispensable part of his training.
His learning in the wisdom of the Egyptians was helpful, but without the immediate tutelage of God he would have been a failure. All who are used of God must spend some time in the retirement of his presence. Two notable examples are Paul in Arabia
and John on Patmos.

I. The Lord Speaks to Moses in the
Burning Bush (vv. 1-6).

It was while keeping the flock of his father-in-law in the desert that the Lord appeared to Moses. Had he remained in Pharaoh's palace he never
could have had the vision of the burning bush. This bush enveloped in flames, yet unconsumed, symbolized
the people of God enswathed in the very fire of God, or God dwelling in the midst of an elect people. Moses steps aside to behold this strange
sight, but must be taught the essential
lesson of the proper approach to God.
We now can approach God with bold-
ness through Jesus Christ (Hebrews
10:19). Our God is a consuming fire.
No evil can be permitted in his presence (Joshua 7; Acts 5). The Lord
did not leave him long in suspense. He told him he was the God of his fathers, the covenant God. As soon as he knew it was God who was speaking
to him he hid his face. The sight of God always causes sinful men to hide
(Isaiah 6:5).

II. Moses Commissioned as the Deliverer of His People (3:7-10).

In the preamble of this commission
God said to Moses: "I have seen the affliction of my people." This is always true (Psalms 22:24; 34:4, 6; Isaiah 63:9). "I have heard their cry."
Not a cry ever goes up from a child of God unheard by him. "I have come down to deliver them out of the hand
of the Egyptians." This shows that God is actively interested in the cause
of his people. He graciously obligates himself: (1) To deliver them out of the hands of the Egyptians. Egypt
may be considered a type of the world;
the oppression, a type of sin's bond-
age; and Pharaoh, a type of the devil.
God delivers his own from the hands
of the devil (Colossians 1:13). (2)
To bring them up out of the land. God
does not deliver and leave his own in
the enemy's land, but brings them out
into a land "flowing with milk and honey." (3) To bring them into a
"good land and large." There is no loss in obeying God. When he brings us out of the enemy's land he brings
us into a better land.

III. Moses' Objections Patiently
Heard and Removed (3:11; 4:10).

1. Personal unworthiness (v. 11). He realized his insufficiency for this task.
His forty years in the school of God
have wrought a great change in him.
His hesitancy is a good sign. Men who are really qualified to do a great
work are not forward to begin it; e. g.,
Jeremiah, Martin Luther, George
Washington. Moses did not refuse to go, but pled his difficulty before the Lord. God answered this difficulty by assuring him that he would be with
him. When God is with a man the impossible becomes the possible.

2. The difficulty of the People to Understand Moses' Relationship to God
(3:13, 14). Moses knew how unwilling they were to acknowledge him
as their deliverer forty years before.
Since God changes his name as he assumes a new relationship to his people,
Moses inquired as to what that new relationship would be, and his corresponding name. The Lord promptly
met this difficulty by showing him a name differing in many respects from all others previously given. This new name is "I Am." This name is from the Hebrew verb "to be." It indicates
(1) God's self-existence; (2) his self-
sufficiency; (3) his unchangeableness.
3. Unbelief on the Part of the People
(4:1-1). This difficulty the Lord met by supplying him with credentials
which could not be gainsaid. He was given the power to perform supernatural wonders (4:2).

4. Lack of Eloquence (4:10). This difficulty the Lord met by providing an assistant in his brother Aaron.

Our Sadness.

We ask God to forgive us for our
evil thoughts and evil temper, but
rarely, if ever, ask him to forgive us
for our sadness. Joy is regarded as a happy accident of the Christian life,
an ornament and a luxury rather than
a duty.—R. W. Dale.

The Human Heart.

The human heart is so constituted
that it is only filled by the richness
which flows from it—not by the richness which flows into it.—Agnes Edwards.

Kingston (Ont.) has just elected a woman to its board of education for

F. O. E. PAY PATRIOTIC INSURANCE

Desire Billotte, a well known Clear-
field township citizen, was in Clearfield
yesterday on business connected with the settling up of the estate of his son, Nestor Billotte who died in France on November 12th last, of
wounds received in action while fighting with the American Expeditionary
Forces against the Hun.

The young soldier was a member of
Clearfield Aerie, No. 512, Fraternal
Order of Eagles and is the first member of the local lodge to make the important sacrifice for his country, although there are twenty-five of them
members in the service.

The Fraternal Order of Eagles provided a "patriotic insurance" for their members in the service, in addition to the regular war risk insurance of the government. Accordingly every Eagle
who took up arms in defense of the flag was given an insurance policy
which provided that in the event of his death while in the service one thousand dollars would be paid to his dependents.

Young Billotte had his policy in the Eagles made out in the name of his mother, who died a few months previous to the death of her son. The father, who is past 81 years of age,
came to Clearfield yesterday with his neighbor, John Varot, also a member of the F. O. E., and at a special meeting of the lodge, presented his proof
of death and the policy and asked that
the amount of the insurance be turned over to him. The proper papers were drawn up and signed and dispatched to
the Grand Secretary of the Order,
and Mr. Billotte will receive his check
for $1000 within the coming week.

PROGRESS OF NEW YORK DECK LABOR STRIKE

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—Leaders of
the striking marine workers today declared they will submit their demands

accordance with the subcommittee from President Wilson but the boat owners
say they would probably refuse to arbitrate before any body of which Har-

Labor Bureau here. Wilson told him
to reopen the case and render a decision using all the agencies of the government to enforce it.

MAIL SERVICE RESUMED
BY ACCIDENTS

Airplane mail service between New York and Chicago has been postponed
and the postoffice department can secure new planes for the work.

The Postoffice Department author-
izes the following:

Extensive field tests and service
tests between New York and Chicago
and between New York and Washington in actual carrying of the mail
have demonstrated that the De Havil-
land 4 is not a type of machine feasible for cross-country flying with a load of mail. The department has succeeded in sending planes through to Chicago, Bryan and Cleveland O.,
and Bellefonte Pa., and making a number of successful trips carrying
mail between New York and Washington, with the De Havilland planes, but
its structure is not designed for carrying burdens and machines have crumpled in making landings and in taking off flights, because they are not adapted for cross-country work in carrying loads.

Heavier Machine

For this reason a heavier machine
will be necessary and such planes are now being set up from the parts in the possession of the Postoffice Department. Such planes have proven successful on the New York-Washington route with no casualties and comparatively few bad accidents to the planes. The War Department has turned over to the Postoffice Department the material for 12 twin-motor Handley-Page airplanes and these will be set up for use on the New York-Chicago route. Until this new equipment can be placed in the service
route from New York to Cleveland
and Chicago which was to have gone into effect January 2, will be postponed.

RED CROSS WORKER WRITES OF HARRY DELANEY

Mrs. Nora Delaney
193 So. 4th Street
Clearfield, Pa.

My Dear Mrs. Delaney:

It is with tender sympathy the Red Cross writes you relative to the death of Sergeant Harry E. Delaney.
Medical detachment, 12th Machine
Gun Battalion Am. Exp. force. The
official report in our office states
that he died on October 6th from wounds received in action. Apart
from this we have a meagre hospital
report dated October 26th, Evacuation
hospital No. 7 which states that the gunshot wound was in the abdomen.

We note that your son was in the Medical detachment and we read behind the lines the story of his splendid bravery. It is with reverence
we think of the sacrifice you have made for our country through your
son. As the passing years somewhat soften your grief, may the memory
of his splendid service and courage
strengthen your spirit and rest as a benediction upon you.

Very sincerely yours,
W. R. CASTLE, Jr.

AS RAILWAY DIRECTOR GENERAL

LOS ANGELES, CAL., Jan. 11.—Wm. G. McAdoo today announced that President Wilson had cabled that Walker Hines was appointed as Director General of Railways. Hines' appointment is effective immediately. The President's cable to McAdoo said that Hines' term as Assistant Director General of Railways fitted him for the appointment.

Among railroad administration officials Hines is regarded as liberal minded. He is even declared radical. It is pointed out that Hines was a strong advocate for the increase in the pay of the employees and is reported in staff meetings of the officials in nearly every case to have been against rather than for the railroad corporations' program.

No Change in Policy

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—The policy of the railroads will in no wise be changed Walker D. Hines, new Director General announced today in his first newspaper conference. Hines said he strongly favored Wm. G. McAdoo's plans for a five year control of the railroads. He expects to lay his plans before Congress at an early date. How vigorously he will express his views was not intimated.

FOCH MOVES HIS GERMAN HEADQUARTERS.
BERLIN DISORDER CUTS OFF HIS COAL

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—Marshal Foch's headquarters in Germany will be transferred to Nancy. The disorder in Berlin is seriously interfering with the railroad traffic and it threatens to cut off the coal supply to the Allied army of occupation. A commission of American, British, and French military officials are said to have gone to Cologne to investigate conditions. The American army abroad uses 25,000 tons a month.

The Third Army has issued an ultimatum to the German government that it will refuse to accept 200 of the big guns surrendered under terms of the armistice owing to the fact that they are old models and a portion of each is missing. As a result a commission is hurrying to Berlin, being unable to obtain any action by telegraph.

COPENHAGEN, Jan. 11.—Serious rioting occurred yesterday in Dresden, Stuttgart, Hamburg, Dusseldorf, and Augsburg, according to dispatches received from German sources today. The posters also announced a mass meeting for tonight. The speaker at the meeting was to be Dennis Dapp, a Socialist editor.

BAD CITIZENSHIP

Now is the time and opportunity for the United States to put its house in order by doing a thorough house-cleaning job. All foreign-born residents who are not citizens and all immigrants on landing here from now on should be card-indexed and made to declare their intentions and this would be followed by citizenship within the earliest legal dates. Those not intending citizenship should be allowed to remain in the country for a stated period only and under strict supervision, and should be compelled to report to the proper authorities at stated intervals.

All German-born residents who have not become citizens, although residents long enough for that purpose, should undergo thorough examination as to why they have not acquired citizenship and what their present intentions are, and based on this inquiry they should be compelled to become citizens at the earliest date possible or be deported.

All German enemy aliens, whether or not at present interned, should be deported, and all citizens of German birth or blood who by speech or act have shown disloyalty to this country should be rigidly investigated and disposed of according to the merits of each case. All good, loyal citizens should co-operate in this work by reporting such disloyal citizens.

Why should disloyal citizens of German birth or blood be allowed the privileges of this country, and above all why should enemy aliens, thousands of whom have been here many years without becoming citizens and thousands of them German reservists be permitted to prosper here under the advantages of this great and free country in competition with loyal citizens of native and foreign birth.

No foreign national flag should be exposed except alongside the American flag; no other flag of any kind should be exposed except the Stars and Stripes fly above it, and the red flag, or any similar flag standing for un-American institutions and disorder should be barred altogether.

ARGENTINE STRIKE
NEAR REVOLUTION

By J. R. Miller
Buenos Ayres, Jan. 11.—The general strike here is part of an anarchistic movement which will spread to the United States and the rest of the world unless it is stopped at once. General Lewis Dellepiane, self-imposed military dictator told the United Press today.

Buenos Ayres, Jan. 11.—The general strike in Buenos Ayres is rapidly developing into a revolution today. Establishment of a military district last night by General Dellepiane, commander of the first military region embracing Buenos Ayres is expected to bring matters to a head. The present national administration was elected by the workmen. So far it has taken no definite steps to suppress the disorder which resulted in a clash between thousands of strikers and soldiers last night. Machine guns were used and the casualties were heavy. The passive attitude of the government led Dellepiane to assume control, he announced. The strike apparently is developing Bolsheviki tendencies. If the government backs Dellepiane a revolution may be precipitated. If the government opposes Dellepiane the latter may attempt to replace a portion of the ministry although President Irigoyne has said that he will not declare martial law. Dellepiane's action is not yet regarded as adverse to the government, but if Irigoyne disapproves he is likely to take some counter action. In any event the loyalty of the army will determine the future.

Dellepiane admitted that he acted on his own initiative but said he is convinced that President Irigoyne approved of his course. "The trouble is due to the Russian anarchists who used the strike as a pretext, declared Dellepiane. The Socialists have promised to stop the movement which is now confined to Argentine but I

AWAY YESTERDAY

Hon. Joseph Alexander one of Clearfield county's best known citizens, died at his home in Madera yesterday morning. Mr. Alexander had been in failing health for a number of years and his death was not unexpected.

The deceased was a member of one of Clearfield county's pioneer families and lived a long, active and useful life. He engaged in farming, lumbering and mining and died possessed of a large estate.

He was a veteran of the Civil war and represented Clearfield county in the Pennsylvania Legislature for several terms. For his careful attention to duty and his unswerving fidelity to his obligations and the interests of his constituents he was styled "Honest Joe" Alexander and deserved that sobriquet through both his public and private life.

In 1910 he was chosen State Senator for the 34th Senatorial district and filled the office with credit to himself and the party which he represented.

He is survived by one son, Clinton, of Washington, and one daughter, Miss Minerva, at home.

In this manner we say goodbye to about twenty-five good people who have neglected and delayed sending in that red envelope. This will be the last issue they will receive. It has been hard work to convince our friends that we really meant that the federal order would be obeyed and that The Progress would stop when the subscription expired. We insert this notice so that these people will know why they do not get a paper on Monday. We will be glad to put your name back on the list when we receive that red envelope. We get many inquiries from people wanting to know when their subscription expires. May we here explain that red envelopes are sent to all subscribers in ample time to allow a remittance before expiration date.

SOUVENIR

The first souvenir to arrive at Kerrmoor from the battlefield of France was a German helmet sent by Corporal Robert Winters to Roscoe B. Shaffer. It created quite an excitement, it being the first war relic in that part of the country. All the town people and surrounding community came to view it while at the post office. It had the life blood of its owner spilled on it. Robert Winters was one of the soldiers who was with the American forces on their punitive expedition in Mexico. He was one of the guards on the border before sailing for France, has been in the service of Uncle Sam for six years, and is now with the army of occupation, Company B, 5th Regiment.

PATRONS HAVE NO KICK: HAVE YOU A KICK—LET US HELP YOU

There is a great deal of dissatisfaction among the local consumers over the charges of the Penn Public Service company for steam heat furnished. Heretofore and ever since the original steam heating plant was erected heat had been furnished patrons on a flat rate basis. That is, each person was asked to pay according to the radiation used or surface area heated. This season meters were installed and many long loud wails have been the result.

Many of those who felt themselves the victims of excessive overcharging have solicited the aid of this newspaper for the purpose of arousing public sentiment and organizing an effective protest against the alleged unfair rates charged. We have had some little general criticism to offer along this line as a result of information secured regarding specific instances of what appeared to be extraordinarily large bills for steam.

As a result of that criticism representatives of the Penn Public Service company have called on us and stated that such criticism was unfair in that out of their total list of some one hundred and forty customers, only about one fifth of that number were kicking or had any right to kick on account of the size of their bills for steam, especially for the bills rendered for December heat.

They say that in the case of each and every one of the kickers it is no doubt possible to remedy the condition and get the bill down to where it would be considered equitable and just. That they had investigated a number of such complaints following the issuing of the bills for November and found in many instances the heavy charge was due to defective installation, excessive radiation or other leaks, with the result that the customer was consuming or wasting much more heat than was necessary and as under the new system all steam going through the pipes was registered up and had to be paid for, the bills were largely in excess of former charges. In a number of cases it was found the leak was due to faulty mains and service and in all of such cases the faulty condition was made with the complaining consumer. The inside leak or faulty condition was up to the consumer to remedy and where remedied satisfactory bills during December have been the result.

They further stated that they were willing to meet and go over the ground with any patron complaining and felt satisfied that the reason for excessive charges, if any, could be located and the remedy pointed out and blame for same and liability for remedying fixed.

The above of course is a fair statement and a fair proposition and is deserving of consideration. We have several instances in mind where charges appear to be highly excessive and if the facts will bear out the steam company's contention after proper and careful investigation, it is only fair that such investigation be made and the remedy supplied.

With a view to a proper determination of this vexing question and obviating a call upon the State Public Service Commission, if such can be done, we ask all steam heat consumers who feel that their steam charge this year is excessive and far in excess of past years to fill out and return to The Progress office the subjoined blank form. Give us the amount of your steam bill for the first four months of the season of 1917-18 and the corresponding months of the present or 1918-19 season. We desire this information not for publication, but for the purpose of verification and acceptance on your behalf of the proposition of the Penn Public's representatives, with a view to having a proper settlement of this vexing problem and one that will be satisfactory, if at all possible, to both sides to the controversy.

We don't want to butt in but we are acting from the standpoint of a consumer and in our newspaper capacity, which we feel entitles us to step in at this time and attempt at least to adjust this difference between Penn Public Service Company and their patrons. Such controversies do not help anybody and should be promptly adjusted or at least the blame fixed, and then if recourse must be had to regularly constituted authority the way will be cleared and we will all get action just that much quicker.

Fill out the blank and mail or hand it in to this office as soon as possible in order that some attempt at adjustment may be made before another month's bills are received and more fuel added to the flames of discontent thereby.

Centre county politicians seem to be a little more anxious about office than these staid old Clearfield countians. Already the weekly papers of Centre County are carrying several political announcements.

Bank accounts have peculiar influences on some people. We find some who need to have no objection to being called by their first name who may insist on our using more ink and type and adding Mr. to their initials. This, however, is not the fault of the bank account.

THE SCHOOLS AND THE FLU

By this time there should be somebody who can tell the people of Clearfield county what to do about sending the children to school. This term of our schools has been very badly broken up by the epidemic and the heads of schools all over the county are complaining that they are unable to get the pupils back to school owing to the fear of the parents that they will contract the flu by attending. By opening the schools the school boards of the county have indicated their belief that there is no great danger from sending pupils to school. However, we find many parents who say their physician has advised them to keep the children at home. What is right for one is right for all. Let us either close the schools or get back to normal. It is unfair to the teachers and to the pupils. The Progress feels that children are in no greater danger at school than at any other place, not even the home where people are continually visiting. It is no uncommon thing to find pupils staying away from school but attending all kinds of public entertainments and amusements.

ROOSEVELT

Is it possible that this dynamic personality has ceased to exist?

How can we convince ourselves that Theodore the Terrible, T. R., the all pervasive, Teddy, our dearly beloved, has gone from us forever? What a tremendous void the thought creates.

He who was the very personification of energy, the embodiment of the restless, vital, progressive spirit of the new America. A splendid prototype of the American of the next half century.

He looked the whole world in the face and found it good; difficulties to him were as wine and no bodily ills could quench the ardor of his optimism; always he was feeling "bully".

Love of country was his ruling passion; probably his greatest sorrow was that in his country's supreme crisis he was denied the privilege of offering his life on the field of battle.

Nevertheless he served his country faithfully and well. He never wavered, sometimes to tilt at windmills, what genius has not; equally at home in marble halls as in the silent places, he never faltered in the face of duty, nor retreated in the face of the enemy.

The lack of his taking off is too near to write calmly; the overwhelming influence of his personality is too immediate to approach with equanimity in their right perspective; the true measure of his greatness, the future will determine.

We know we have lost a great leader at a time when such are most sorely needed. The nation has lost a distinguished patriot; we have lost a friend.

Well, Theodore, you have bequeathed to us a priceless heritage of faith; we may not look upon your face again but all down the coming ages, millions of weaker brothers will draw inspiration from your example and from your cheering words gain strength to more nobly "carry on".—B. B. McCreight.

AN IDEAL PLACE FOR GIRLS TO WORK

Every visitor to the Plush Mill commonly called the Silk mill here comes away amazed at the excellent working conditions for girls there. The floors and walls are found to be spotlessly clean. The lighting arrangement is of the best to be had. Ventilation is taken care of by special and expensive mechanical equipment. Wages are good and the work light. Now that the war is over and there is a greater demand for the product of the mill the force is to be increased and a great many girls can find pleasant employment. Families living throughout the county are invited to correspond with the Clearfield Textile company or J. P. O'Laughlin in regard to employment. Many families having three or four girls desiring employment have already moved here. The company has desirable houses for such families.

CLEARFIELD BOY MAKING GOOD

Thales Boyd, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Boyd, and a graduate of Clearfield High School, who entered Annapolis Naval Academy following his graduation several years ago, is making his mark in Uncle Sam's navy. During the war Ensign Boyd was in command of an American submarine and was only recently promoted to Lieutenant Commander as a reward for faithful service.

Lt. Commander Boyd's next of kin, Clearfield friends will be pleased to learn of his advancement.

There's no use suffering from the aching agony of lame back. Don't wait till it "passes off." It only comes back. Find the cause and stop it. Diseased conditions of kidneys are usually indicated by stiff lame backs and other wearisome pains, which are nature's signals for help. Here's the remedy. When you feel the first twinges of pain or experience any of these symptoms, get busy at once. Go to your druggist and get a box of the pure, original, GLENN MEDICAL Backache Oil. It's the most important remedy ever known from the laboratories in Hudson, Holland. Pleasant and easy to take, they instantly attack the poisonous germs clogging your system and bring quick relief. For over two hundred years they have been helping the sick. Why not try them? Sold everywhere by reputable druggists in sealed packages.

You've often heard the saying, "It pays to advertise." That is true. And it also pays to read advertisements--pays you. If you read advertisements consistently for any length of time you will agree that this statement is also true.

It pays you in money saved. There are many real bargains offered from time to time in the advertisements appearing in this paper. Watch for them.

It pays you in satisfaction. When a merchant asks you to come to his store he obligates himself to sell you quality goods "as advertised." You have a right to expect satisfaction from what you buy and you get it.

It pays you in time saved. When you know exactly what you want to buy and where you want to buy it, you don't have to "look around" and waste time finding it.

Don't you want to save money and time? Wouldn't you like to be sure of getting satisfactory service and quality goods every time you go to a store? Then read the advertisements and patronize the stores which can serve you best.

Here are paragraphs from a Kansas letter, quoting Henry Johnson, colored, of Albany, N. Y., on an outpost.

"'Twas a cloudy and rainy night and me and ma pardner was at this beach outpost. 'Bout two in de mornin' we sees a bunch of Germans comin' as us. Ah figured myself as good a man as any of dem en. Ah says to 'ma pardner, 'We's goin' to stick right here.' He says 'I'm with you to de end.' So 'stead of 'treating to our lines we cut loose grenades and fired away all our ammunition. Robinson was wounded in de laig at de start and fell at de ground still throwing de grenades at de Huns. Two of 'em tried to carry 'way ma pardner on a stretcher. Ah took ma rifle, a French gun, just like dis, and hit a dude right on de head and broke de rifle right heah.

"Ah went after de dudes carryin' way ma pardner. Ah reached for 'ma bowie (trench knife) and hit one feller right in de head. I pulled it out and 'bout faced all round and give it to nudder in de guts. "I took ma pardner away from 'em and brought 'em back to de post. Den one of de dudes comes to me hollerin' 'Kumrad.' 'Kumrad,' you say 'Th Kumrad all right. Ah'll show ye Kumrad.' Yessah and den de Germans, what was left of 'em, beat it. I bandaged ma pardner with me first-aid kit.

"Den de lootenant comes runnin' in an says, 'Johnson what's happened?' Ah says, 'It's all over, lootenant.' 'Ah had sixteen automatics and me stuff piled in front of me.

"Ah say, 'Go out dere an count dose dudes.

"The lootenant takes his pocket light an' looks over de ground and comes back.

"'Fer heaven's sake, Johnson, dere's twenty-four of 'em.' 'Yessah, and if dey hadn't a got ma pardner here, dey would a been a lot more.

Miss Elizabeth Wentworth Roberts of Concord, Mass., from the heroine of the European war in 1914, made it her invariable practice to turn over all the money she has received for her paintings to the various war relief funds, and now that

I'm sitting here and thinking of the
things I left behind,
And I hate to put on paper what is
running through my mind.
We've dug a million trenches, and
cleaned ten miles of ground,
And a manner place this side of hell,
I know it can't be found,
When we die we're bound to go to heaven for we've done our hitch
in hell.

We've built a hundred kitchens for
the cooks to stew our beans,
We've stood a hundred guard mounts,
and cleaned the camp latrines,
We've washed a million mess-kits and
peeled a million spuds,
We've strapped a million blanket-
rolls and washed a million duds.
The number of parades we've stood is
very hard to tell,
But we'll not parade in heaven for
we've done our hitch in hell.

We've killed a million poison snakes
that tried to take our coats,
We've shook a million spiders from
off our army socks,
We've marched a hundred thousand
miles and made a million camps,
And pulled a thousand sensitive
plants from off our army punts.
But when our work on earth is done
our friends behind will tell,
When they died, they went to heaven
for they've done their hitch in hell.

When the final taps are sounded, and
we lay aside our cares,
And we do the very last parade right
up the golden stairs,
And the angels bid us welcome and
the harps begin to play,
While we draw a million canteen
checks and spend them in a day,
'Tis then we'll hear St. Peter tell us
loudly with a yell,
Just take a front seat Mister, for
you've done your hitch in hell.

There Was Nothing So Good
for Congestion and Colds
as Mustard

But the old-fashioned mustard-plaster
burned and blistered while it acted. Get
the relief and help that mustard
provides without the plaster and

ointment, made with oil of mustard. It is
scientifically prepared, so that it works
wonderfully, and yet does not blister the
tenderest skin.

Just massage Musterole in with the fingers gently. See how quickly it brings relief. How speedily the pain disappears.
Use Musterole for sore throat, bron-

(By REV. P. B. FITZWATER, D. D.,
Teacher of English Bible in the Moody
Bible Institute of Chicago.)
(Copyright, 1918, Western Newspaper
Union.)

MOSES THE DELIVERER OF ISRAEL.

LESSON TEXT—Exodus 3:1-2.
GOLDEN TEXT—And Moses verily was
faithful in all his house. Hebrews 3:2.
ADDITIONAL MATERIAL—Exodus 3:
12-4:17; Acts 7:31-36.

While the oppression of God's people
was heading up, in the providence of God a deliverer was being prepared
to take up the task at the opportune
hour. Moses was first trained at his mother's knee, then in Pharaoh's
court and finally under God's immediate hand in the desert. The latter was
an indispensable part of his training.
His learning in the wisdom of the Egyptians was helpful, but without the
immediate tutelage of God he would have been a failure. All who are used of God must spend some time
in the retirement of his presence. Two notable examples are Paul in Arabia
and John on Patmos.

I. The Lord Speaks to Moses in the
Burning Bush (vv. 1-6).

It was while keeping the flock of his father-in-law in the desert that the Lord appeared to Moses. Had he remained in Pharaoh's palace he never
could have had the vision of the burning bush. This bush enveloped in flames, yet unconsumed, symbolized
the people of God enswathed in the very fire of God, or God dwelling in
the midst of an elect people. Moses
steps aside to behold this strange
sight, but must be taught the essential
lesson of the proper approach to God.
We now can approach God with bold-
ness through Jesus Christ (Hebrews
10:19). Our God is a consuming fire.
No evil can be permitted in his presence (Joshua 7; Acts 5). The Lord
did not leave him long in suspense. He told him he was the God of his fathers, the covenant God. As soon as
he knew it was God who was speaking
to him he hid his face. The sight of God always causes sinful men to hide
(Isaiah 6:5).

II. Moses Commissioned as the De-
liverer of His People (3:7-10).

In the preamble of this commission
God said to Moses: "I have seen the
affliction of my people." This is always true (Psalms 22:24; 34:4, 6; Isaiah 63:9). "I have heard their cry."
Not a cry ever goes up from a child of God unheard by him. "I have come
down to deliver them out of the hand
of the Egyptians." This shows that God is actively interested in the cause
of his people. He graciously obligates
himself: (1) To deliver them out of
the hands of the Egyptians. Egypt
may be considered a type of the world;
the oppression, a type of sin's bond-
age; and Pharaoh, a type of the devil.
God delivers his own from the hands
of the devil (Colossians 1:13). (2)
To bring them up out of the land. God
does not deliver and leave his own in
the enemy's land, but brings them out
into a land "flowing with milk and
honey." (3) To bring them into a
"good land and large." There is no
loss in obeying God. When he brings
us out of the enemy's land he brings
us into a better land.

III. Moses' Objections Patiently
Heard and Removed (3:11; 4:10).

1. Personal unworthiness (v. 11). He realized his insufficiency for this task.
His forty years in the school of God
have wrought a great change in him.
His hesitancy is a good sign. Men
who are really qualified to do a great
work are not forward to begin it; e. g.,
Jeremiah, Martin Luther, George
Washington. Moses did not refuse to
go, but pled his difficulty before the Lord. God answered this difficulty by
assuring him that he would be with
him. When God is with a man the impossible becomes the possible.

2. The Difficulty of the People to Understand Moses' Relationship to God
(3:13, 14). Moses knew how unwilling they were to acknowledge him
as their deliverer forty years before.
Since God changes his name as he as-
sumes a new relationship to his people,
Moses inquired as to what that new relationship would be, and his corresponding name. The Lord promptly
met this difficulty by showing him a
name differing in many respects from
all others previously given. This new name is "I Am." This name is from the Hebrew verb "to be." It indicates
(1) God's self-existence; (2) his self-
sufficiency; (3) his unchangeableness.
3. Unbelief on the Part of the People
(4:1-1). This difficulty the Lord met
by supplying him with credentials
which could not be gainsaid. He was given the power to perform super-
natural wonders (4:2).

4. Lack of Eloquence (4:10). This difficulty the Lord met by providing
an assistant in his brother Aaron.

Our Sadness.

We ask God to forgive us for our
evil thoughts and evil temper, but
rarely, if ever, ask him to forgive us
for our sadness. Joy is regarded as a
happy accident of the Christian life,
an ornament and a luxury rather than
a duty.—R. W. Dale.

The Human Heart.

The human heart is so constituted
that it is only filled by the richness
which flows from it—not by the richness which flows into it.—Agnes Edwards.

woman to its board of education for

F. O. E. PAY PATRIOTIC INSURANCE

Desire Billotte, a well known Clear-
field township citizen, was in Clearfield
yesterday on business connected with
the settling up of the estate of his
son, Nestor Billotte who died in France on November 12th last, of
wounds received in action while fighting with the American Expeditionary
Forces against the Hun.

The young soldier was a member of
Clearfield Aerie, No. 512, Fraternal
Order of Eagles and is the first member of the local lodge to make the important sacrifice for his country, although there are twenty-five of them
members in the service.

The Fraternal Order of Eagles provided a "patriotic insurance" for their
members in the service, in addition to
the regular war risk insurance of the government. Accordingly every Eagle
who took up arms in defense of the
flag was given an insurance policy
which provided that in the event of
his death while in the service one
thousand dollars would be paid to his
dependents.

Young Billotte had his policy in the Eagles made out in the name of his
mother, who died a few months previous to the death of her son. The
father, who is past 81 years of age,
came to Clearfield yesterday with his neighbor, John Varior, also a member of the F. O. E., and at a special meeting of the lodge, presented his proof
of death and the policy and asked that
the amount of the insurance be turned over to him. The proper papers were drawn up and signed and dispatched to
the Grand Secretary of the Order,
and Mr. Billotte will receive his check
for $1000 within the coming week.

PROGRESS OF NEW YORK DECK LABOR STRIKE

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—Leaders of
the striking marine workers today declared they will submit their disputes with the boat owners to arbitration in accordance with the subcommittee from President Wilson but the boat owners
say they would probably refuse to ar-
bitrate before any body of which Harold M. Manly is a member. Manly is joint chairman of the National War
Labor Bureau here. Wilson told him
to reopen the case and render a decision using all the agencies of the government to enforce it.

MAIL SERVICE RESUMED
BY ACCIDENTS

Airplane mail service between New York and Chicago has been postponed
and the postoffice department can secure new planes for the work.

The Postoffice Department author-
izes the following:

Extensive field tests and service
tests between New York and Chicago
and between New York and Washing-
ton in actual carrying of the mail
have demonstrated that the De Havil-
land 4 is not a type of machine feasible for cross-country flying with a load of mail. The department has succeeded in sending planes through to Chicago, Bryan and Cleveland O.,
and Bellefonte Pa., and making a number of successful trips carrying
mail between New York and Washington, with the De Havilland planes, but
its structure is not designed for carrying burdens and machines have
crumpled in making landings and in
taking off flights, because they are not
adapted for cross-country work in carrying loads.

Heavier Machine

For this reason a heavier machine
will be necessary and such planes are
now being set up from the parts in
the possession of the Postoffice Department. Such planes have proven
successful on the New York-Washing-
ton route with no casualties and comparatively few bad accidents to the
planes. The War Department has
turned over to the Postoffice Department the material for 12 twin-motor
Handley-Page airplanes and these will be set up for use on the New York-
Chicago route. Until this new equipment can be placed in the service
route from New York to Cleveland
and Chicago which was to have gone
into effect January 2, will be postponed.

RED CROSS WORKER WRITES OF HARRY DELANEY

Mrs. Nora Delaney
193 So. 4th Street
Clearfield, Pa.

My Dear Mrs. Delaney:

It is with tender sympathy the Red Cross writes you relative to the death of Sergeant Harry E. Delaney.
Medical detachment, 12th Machine
Gun Battalion Am. Exp. force. The
official report in our office states
that he died on October 6th from
wounds received in action. Apart
from this we have a meagre hospital
report dated October 26th, Evacuation
hospital No. 7 which states that
the gunshot wound was in the abdo-
men.

We note that your son was in the Medical detachment and we read behind the lines the story of his splendid bravery. It is with reverence
we think of the sacrifice you have
made for our country through your
son. As the passing years somewhat
soften your grief, may the memory
of his splendid service and courage
strengthen your spirit and rest as a benediction upon you.

Very sincerely yours,
W. R. CASTLE, Jr.
